

Fair Lane Powerhouse 1915

Dearborn, Michigan

This powerhouse, part of Henry Ford's Fair Lane estate on the Rouge River, is connected to the main house by a 300-foot-long tunnel.

Thomas Edison, a personal friend of Henry Ford, laid the cornerstone for this building. Fair Lane is one of Michigan's 33 National Historic Landmarks.

Michigan Historical Center
STATE
HISTORIC PRESERVATION OFFICE

www.michiganhistory.org

Historic Preservation in Michigan

The Michigan State Historic Preservation Office works with citizens to build a future with historic places.

General Information

517/373-1630

preservation@michigan.gov

Centennial Farms

517/373-1667

Certified Local Governments and Grants

517/373-1904

Environmental Review

517/335-2721

Historical Markers

517/335-2725

Local Historic Districts and Survey and Planning

517/335-2729

National Register of Historic Places

517/335-2719

Tax Credits

Federal 517/335-2727

State 517/373-1631

Office of the State Archaeologist

517/373-6358

This publication has been financed in part with federal funds from the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior. The State Historic Preservation Office receives federal financial assistance for identification and protection of historic properties.

Department of History, Arts and Libraries

03116 04/03